Congratulations to the 2023 Finalists of the Kellogg-Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investing Challenge.

Your innovative ideas demonstrate the power of sustainable investing.
Kellogg-Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investing Challenge

The 2023 Kellogg-Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investing Challenge would like to thank all of the participating judges and mentors, without whom the Challenge would not be possible, for their generous contributions of time and expertise.

2023 Competition Snapshot

- TOTAL OF 313 STUDENTS
- FROM 67 SCHOOLS
- FROM 53 HOME COUNTRIES
- FORMING 95 TEAMS
- TARGETING IMPACT IN 27 COUNTRIES
About the Challenge

The Kellogg-Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investing Challenge harnesses the power of capital markets and student creativity to create positive impact in a world of perpetual resource scarcity and continued population growth. A pitch competition for graduate students, the Sustainable Investing Challenge focuses on developing investment vehicles that seek positive environmental or social impact and competitive market-rate returns.

Students are encouraged to consider the entire spectrum of investment tools, styles and asset classes in developing their proposals. We seek ideas that help meet the needs, demands and specifications of today’s institutional investor, while addressing issues that go to the heart of sustainability and social impact.

The Sustainable Investing Challenge looks for financial solutions that help support economic development, human well-being and social advancement today without compromising the generations of tomorrow.

This year we received 95 submissions from 313 students representing 67 different schools. The pool of applications addressed a wide array of social and environmental issues, targeting impact in economies all around the world. We see this as a powerful testament to the potential of global finance to drive positive, large-scale change.

A team of judges from around the world narrowed the original submissions to 12 finalist teams. The top three teams will present their ideas before some of the most sophisticated investors, corporate leaders and academics in the world of sustainability and finance. Through this competition, the Kellogg-Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investing Challenge seeks to cultivate the next generation of sustainable finance leaders.

refugeeinsights.com

Following their 2020 Challenge win, the team launched Refugee Integration Insights (RII), the first independent provider of refugee integration data and insights. RII seeks to close the data and investment gap on corporate refugee support by tracking how global companies support the economic integration of refugees through hiring, entrepreneur support and education and skills development. RII has developed a Refugee Corporate Action Dataset that tracks corporate refugee initiatives, as well as the proprietary Refugee Lens Scorecard to rate how well these companies support refugee economic integration. Along with Solactive, a German index provider, RII is launching the Refugee Lens Index (RLI) Top 50 which tracks the top 50 ESG-screened global companies that support refugees. RLI will help institutional and retail investors channel capital towards a sustainable solution to the growing refugee crisis.

carbon-yield.com

Carbon Yield promotes the adoption of regenerative agricultural practices by providing farmers with the tools and financial resources they need to transition their lands to resilient, biodiverse carbon sinks. They work with over 100 landowners in 37 states to develop projects that compensate growers for how well they steward working lands. Carbon Yield’s work earned recognition in Fast Company’s World Changing Ideas series, and acceptance into the Kellogg Zell Fellowship, the Conservation Finance Alliance entrepreneurial incubator, and gener8tor’s inaugural climate accelerator. Carbon Yield’s co-founders first began working together in preparation for the 2019 Kellogg Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investment Competition, and they deeply value the foundational role the competition played in the company’s origin story.
The team behind Blue Forest Conservation has been working to monetize the shared benefits of forest management in the U.S. through the Forest Resilience Bonds to reduce the risk of catastrophic wildfire by accelerating the pace and scale of this important work. In partnership with the U.S. Forest Service and the World Resources Institute, Blue Forest closed the first Forest Resilience Bond in Tahoe National Forest in 2018, raising capital from The Rockefeller Foundation, the Gordon & Betty Moore Foundation, Calvert Impact Capital and CSAA Insurance Group. In 2021, Blue Forest closed the second Forest Resilience Bond. The new FRB on the Tahoe National Forest will finance forest resilience and post-fire restoration projects in California's Sierra Nevada mountains to help restore 48,000 forested acres, protect nearby communities and enhance water security. The Forest Resilience Bond brings private capital to bear on ecological restoration in California and across the western U.S., not only to reduce wildfire destruction and avoid carbon emissions, but also to protect water resources and ecosystems, and to support the development of sustainable rural communities.

A founding member of the Secha Capital team studied the Challenge's fund ideas and innovations since 2012 to develop the model for Secha Capital. It became clear that the opportunity for impact and financial returns in emerging market investing required an impact fund to tweak fund economics to write small, impactful checks quickly to unique entrepreneurs/sectors and include human capital to complement growth capital. In 2017, this became Secha Capital, a Southern Africa impact investing, micro-private equity fund. Secha Capital leverages an operator-investor model for investing in established SMEs in the FMCG and agribusiness sectors to yield both social and financial returns. To date, its SME portfolio companies have created over 250 jobs and each company has grown from three to 12 times their top lines.
Leaders and Launchers

Sam Schiller is the Co-Founder and CEO of Carbon Yield, where he has utilized his deep experience in carbon markets and agricultural communities to better align farm profitability with carbon storage in healthy soils. His entrepreneurial work in environmental markets has generated over 2 million tons of carbon credits and earned him the Kellogg Zell Fellowship, recognition in Fast Company’s World Changing Ideas series, and first prize at the 2019 Kellogg-Morgan Stanley Sustainable Investing Challenge, where Carbon Yield’s founders first began their work together. Carbon Yield recently won a $5 million USDA Climate Smart Commodities grant, which will help scale their partnerships with farmers adopting regenerative practices. Sam graduated with a degree in social policy and environmental policy from Northwestern University and an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management.
Speakers and Hosts

Dave Chen
CEO and Chairman
Equilibrium
Adjunct Professor of Finance, Faculty Lead of Impact Investing
Kellogg School of Management

Dave is Faculty Lead of Impact Investing at the Kellogg School of Management and the CEO and Chairman of Equilibrium, leading the firm’s growth, overseeing its strategy, and heading its investment product development. In addition, he serves on Equilibrium’s Board of Directors. Dave is also the firm’s founder, a move emanating from his longstanding interest in and commitment to sustainability and capital markets. His focus on sustainability intensified while he worked in the venture capital sector, leading initiatives in regional economic development and participating in climate change policy development. In 2007, he saw the growing interest in sustainability re-shaping the basic economic sectors of the “Maslow hierarchy of needs” and creating economic advantage. Climate change was driving a rethinking of asset risk and value. Before establishing Equilibrium, Dave was a general partner with OVP Venture Partners from 2000-2007. There, his investments included Intelligent Results (acquired by First Data), Net6 (acquired by Citrix), @mobile (acquired by Software.com), and @once (acquired by InfoUSA). Prior to joining OVP, Dave was founder and CEO of GeoTrust (acquired by VeriSign 2006); founder of The Ascent Group, a global strategy consultancy firm; Vice President Marketing at Mentor Graphics; associate at McKinsey & Company; and an early team member Solectron (1978-1985). Dave has a B.A. in biology, from the University of California, Berkeley and a M.M. from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University.

Dan Wells
Partner, Foresight Group
Co-Manager, Foresight Energy Infrastructure Partners
Foresight Group

Dan is a Partner at Foresight and has over twenty-two years of experience of climate and sustainable finance, in particular in infrastructure and real assets. He has worked at different times in Europe, North America and Asia. Dan is co-Manager of Foresight Energy Infrastructure Partners (“FEIP”), an c.€850m energy transition infrastructure fund. FEIP invests into all the necessary current and future components of decarbonised energy systems, including renewable energy generation, “flexible” technologies such as energy storage, and transmission and distribution assets. Previously he established Foresight’s Sustainable Land and Food team to build strategies in forestry, sustainable and regenerative agriculture, new forms of sustainable food production, ocean-based climate solutions and carbon removal projects. He has written on the sustainability transition in numerous publications, such as the Financial Times. Prior to Foresight, Dan worked at Sindicatum, a dedicated clean energy investing firm. After working on a capital raise of c.$300 million primarily from U.S. institutional investors, he focused on the fund deployment in South East Asia, China and India. Between 2000 and 2007 Dan worked for EY. Dan is a chartered accountant; he holds an MSc in Sustainable Leadership from CSEM (Distinction) and a BA in Modern History from the University of Bristol.

The returns on a portfolio consisting primarily of Environmental, Social and Governance (“ESG”) aware investments may be lower or higher than a portfolio that is more diversified or where decisions are based solely on investment considerations. Because ESG criteria exclude some investments, investors may not be able to take advantage of the same opportunities or market trends as investors that do not use such criteria. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against loss in a declining financial market.
